closed containers, the number of those containers and the net weight in each of the containers. These delivery notes must be made up before the journey begins.

Weighing of Solid Fuel at Buyers Request

A person receiving a delivery of solid fuel is entitled to request that the delivery is weighed in his/her presence if the delivery has not yet been completed or, if it has been delivered and the person who delivered it is still on the premises and the fuel can be identified.

Vending Machines

Solid fuel vending machines must carry a notice stating the net weight of the fuel in each item. The notice must be clear and legible and displayed so prominently that it can be read easily. The notice must also state the seller's name and address unless the machine is situated at the seller's business premises.
